

Princeton Alumni Weekly

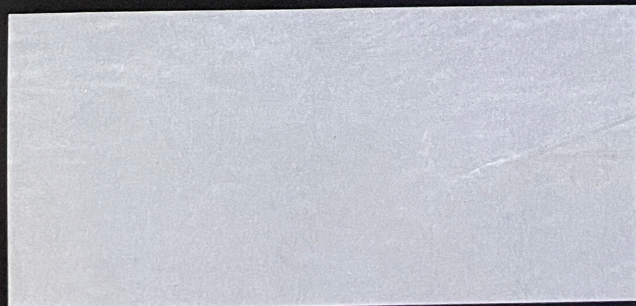

May 15, 2002

New views

PAW discovers the few campus sites where the jackhammers
and backhoes have been and gone

Two alumni collaborate
to create New York
City's newest museum

The return of Cornell
West *80

GENERATION EXCELLENT

“Princeton’s students are its greatest resource, and the ideas with the most potential to transform us are the ones shared among students.”

JON HARRIS '02

SHELBURNE, VERMONT

An artist, athlete, and accomplished web designer majoring in computer science, Jon Harris '02 has co-founded a new student arts magazine called Troubadour. The inaugural issue, published last fall, featured works by students as well as renowned faculty and alumni. As a sophomore, Jon gained attention on campus for painting an 18-by-12 foot mural for his 10-person suite in Dodge-Osborn Hall. As a member of the varsity water polo team, he also designed the team's web page. Following commencement, he will dedicate next year to expanding the audience for Troubadour.

This year's Annual Giving campaign closes June 30, 2002. Checks made payable to Princeton University can be mailed to Box 5357, Princeton, NJ 08543-5357. To make a gift by credit card, call our toll-free, 24 hour gift line at 800-258-5421 or use our secure server at www.princeton.edu/ag. For other information or assistance, please call 609-258-3373.

A N N U A L
G I V I N G